

Program for the 3rd Ludwigshafen Conference on the Currency Area East Asia:

Cash in East Asia

on May 13, 2016 at the East Asia Institute in Ludwigshafen

- 9.00-9.30 Welcome addresses Prof. Dr. Frank Rövekamp
East Asia Institute
- Mr. Bernd Kaltenhäuser*
Deutsche Bundesbank
- 9.30-10.00 Keynote presentation
- The use of cash in Europe and East Asia
Prof. Dr. Masaaki Shirakawa, former Governor of the Bank of Japan
- 10.00-11.00 Part 1: Cash and its impact on society
moderated by Dr. Hanns Günther Hilpert, German Institute for International and Security Affairs (SWP), Berlin
- Shadow economy and corruption in Europe and East Asia –
What did we learn in the past 20 years?
Prof. Dr. Friedrich Schneider, Johannes Kepler University of Linz
- Remonetization and its effects. The case of North Korea
Prof. Dr. Rüdiger Frank, University of Vienna
- 11.00-11.30 Coffee break
- 11.30-12.30 Part 2: Cash and monetary policy
moderated by Prof. Dr. Frank Rövekamp, East Asia Institute
- Domestic liquidity conditions and monetary policy in Singapore
Prof. Dr. Hwee Kwan Chow, Singapore Management University

Changes in the investment-savings nexus and the future of credit money in Japan

Prof. Dr. Franz Waldenberger, German Institute for Japanese Studies

12.30-13.30 Lunch

13.30-15.30 Part 3: On the way to cashless societies?

moderated by Prof. Dr. Moritz Bälz, Goethe University Frankfurt

—
Asia

Coinless society as a way to a cashless society: the case of Korea

Prof. Dr. Woosik Moon, Seoul National University

The ongoing evolution of payment instruments in China

Mr. Patrick Hess, European Central Bank

—
Europe

Restricting the use of cash in the Monetary Union – legal aspects

Prof. Dr. Helmut Siekmann, Goethe University Frankfurt

Does cash have a future in Germany?

Mr. Erwin Gladisch, Deutsche Bundesbank

15.30-16.00 Coffee break

16.00-17.00 Cash and financial stability

Panel discussion among all speakers

17.00 End of conference

Guest are welcome to attend, please apply under conference@oai.de (limited places)

East Asia Institute, Rheinpromenade 12, 67061 Ludwigshafen, Germany

